

HEALTH SCIENCES

Health Science degrees provide students with entry level credentials to work in a variety of healthcare settings. Emphasis of the programs is placed on developing skills in interprofessional collaboration, cultural fluency, ecological approaches to health, leadership, and patient care. The Health Sciences degrees position graduates for advancement in healthcare roles and opportunities to seek further healthcare-related education.

Associate

- Health Sciences - AAS (<http://catalog.stkate.edu/undergraduate/health/health-sciences/health-sciences-aas/>)

Baccalaureate Major

- Health Sciences - BS (<http://catalog.stkate.edu/undergraduate/health/health-sciences/health-sciences-bs/>)